

NET ART

Started around 1993/94 and lasted until the 2000's. To qualify as Net Art it must be dependent on the Internet, while others go father and say it must also exist within a browser.

Net-Art.org is a site where digital art can be viewed. It ranges from images to videos. Allowing access to news and announcements pertaining to internet art. It is a world of art that goes beyond the imagination creating a gateway to the world of internet art.

Simply put Net Art, also known as Internet Art, uses the Internet as its primary material, drawing out data from other materials and websites to be created.
